The 10 - Earth and Nature
998317,LC
J.I.S
The 10 books provide engaging and exciting titles in a “Top 10” countdown format. They are accessible to the whole class. All books are written at a grade 6 level, but with content and visual appeal for all students.

- Critical questions encourage students to think and read for meaning
- Topics are current and cutting-edge
- Fosters collaboration and ownership of ideas and opinions
- The glossy magazine format is highly appealing
- Strengthens research skills and understanding of non-fiction text types

Greatest Threats to Earth How can we SAVE the world?

Most Dangerous Places on Earth Prepare to chase storms, swim with sharks, and take a heart-pounding drive down something called "the Death Road."

Mightiest Rivers Take a trip with us and discover amazing watery ways that have helped sustain human life for centuries.

Mightiest Mountains There's no doubt you'll be amazed at the height, beauty, and legends of these awesome peaks.

Worst Natural Disasters Natural disasters come in all varieties. From record-setting earthquakes to deadly landslides, one can never know when a disaster will happen.

Most Destructive Ecosystem Invaders What happens when certain animals or insects are introduced to parts of the world they don't belong?

Landform Models
998196,KT
IJS
Eight separate landform models form a single, 3 ft. x 3 ft., tri-dimensional model of mountains, lakes, rivers, deserts, glaciers, coastlines, canyons, and cultural points of interest.

A lesson plan provides a glossary keyed to features on the models, plus question-and-answer exercises and supplementary activities.

Also contains a 20-page student workbook.
